

Přemysl Pella

PŘEMYSL PELA has extensive professional experience in the field of public diplomacy, academia and the private sector. Currently, Pella leads the Czech Centre in London and previously also served as the Czech Centre's Director in New York. Prior to departing to London, Pella, at the Czech Centres HQ, lead the Czech Innovation Expo project, chaired its Executive Board and co-leads the new exhibition initiative Innovation for Sustainable Future. In the academic sphere, he worked at the CERGE-EI Institute of Charles University and the Academy of Sciences and held top management positions in the private sector.

Pella received his academic education at the University of Ostrava and the University of Wisconsin in the USA and also completed executive programmes at the New York University, the Michigan University Business School and the Civil Management College in London